BOYDEN HIGH SCHOOL

FOREWORD

In this, the annual of 1929, we are endeavoring to brush aside the silver veil which separates the days, and portray the complete life of Boyden High. Between these covers are the memories of yesterday, pictures of today, and foretellings of tomorrow.

J. H. KNOX

DEDICATION

In recognition of the time and work he has so unselfishly rendered to this school, of the deep interest he has taken in the success of its members, of the great problem he has faced as new principal of Boyden High, of his profound interest, willingness to sacrifice and constant co-operation in the effort to make real the Ideal Boyden High, we respectfully dedicate this volume of The Echo to our esteemed principal,

SENIOR CLASS POEM

The curtain closes on four years well spent
All mingled with our cares, joys, and regrets,
And we in pausing, rent the veil that bars our vision of the past
And thus called back, we live again each era past.

Act One—from out dark halls of memory we call
Days of childish joys and doubts
Where upperclassmen were wise sages—learned and skilled.
Just one command, our worlds turned as they willed;
All life seemed one wide, wandering way
Where one could work, be sad, be gay.

Act Two—then finds us one year older and more wise.
We have more zest to gain the upward flight;
We linger not so long by wayside flowers,
And realize time passes on unheeded with most precious hours.
Thus with high hopes of greater things
We take just one step further up Life's way.

And the actors of Act Three appear.
We find those treasured hopes for which we strive draw near—
One mile ahead there's all we hoped to gain
Where we—king of our destinies—might reign.
So wisely do we pass along this road of Life
With hopes to be a figure in its strife.

Act Four—holds all the glory of a rising sun.
We see our destination 'ere it's won,
And here we leave the foot-marked path wherein four years have passed,
And turn to seek a broader, newer field—more vast.
Courageously we take from our Fate's hands—the hate—the love—the joy and the despair—
The good—the bad—all this Life's share,
And with a vauntless courage take our lives
To carry on to sightless heights or sink downtrodden, hopeless to the mire.

And so the closing curtain leaves us there.
No more is seen upon this stage;
Henceforth, each one presents alone his play—
It may be comedy—It may be cold, dark tragedy
Who shall say?

—Agnes Menius.

Lottie is always happy and has a smile for everybody and a way that has won for her many friends. Lottie's height and good goal-shooting will be missed on the basketball court next year. Although her many outside admirers think her rather quiet, her close friends can assure her worth.

ZELMA AYRES

"Divinely Tall and Divinely Fair."

"Peaches" is an attractive girl well worth knowing. She has a train of admirers that most girls envy. Nevertheless "Peaches" is good in her work and we are proud of her ability to play basketball. N. C. C. W. will be proud to have a girl like her.

JAMES BARGER

RACHEL BARNES

Entered '23; Latin Course; Girl Reserves '23-'24; Athletic Association '24-'25;

From the success that "Lib" has made during her four years in Boyden High School, we can readily predict a colorful future. Elizabeth is a very winsome girl and has a way of making hosts of friends anywhere she goes. "Lib" is an allround good sport and Boyden Hi will miss her helpful qualities.

Steady, dependable, and true is Mildred. If you want something done, and done well, the best policy is to go to her, for she never does her work half way. Her good nature and exceptionally agreeable personality have won for her a place in all our hearts.

ROBERT LINN BERNHARDT, JR.

Entered '25; Latin Course; Athletic Association '26; Echo Reporter '26; Hi-Y '27-'28-'29; Junior Dramatic Club '27; Debating Club '27-'28-'29; Candidate Varsity Basketball '27; Senior Dramatic Club '28-'29; Midget Basket Ball '28-'29; Glee Club '28-'29; Vice-President Home Room '29; Poetry Club.

"Bob" is one of our most popular boys, not only with the boys and girls, but also with the faculty. "Bob" is a sincere fellow and is always willing to aid his comrades. It can be said that his purpose in life is high, and his determination great. Success to you "Bob", in all you do.

RALPH BRIDGES

Entered '25; Latin Course; French Club '28 Hi-Y '29; Athletic Association '27-'29; Senior Dramatic Club '29; Program Chairman '27-'29; Chairman History Class '29.

Ralph is one of our smartest students when it comes to working Math—he just knows all about it. We hope he will be able to publish a new Math Book for Boyden High students to struggle with. Don't make it too hard!

CATHERINE BROWN

Entered '25; Science Course; Home Economics '27-'28; Art Club '28-'29-President; Junior Science Club '29; Home Room Chairman '29; Library Work '27-'28; Office Work '29; Big Sister '28-'29; Girl's League '29.

"You can live without knowledge,
You can live without books,
But civilized men cannot live without cooks."
Catherine is certainly one of our most dignified seniors. She is tall and stately. When there is work to be done just call on Catherine and she will always lend a willing and helpful hand.

MARY E. BROWN

Entered '25; Home Economics Course; Freshman and Sophomore Basket Ball; Girl Reserves '24-'29; Home Economics Club '27-'29; French Club '28.

Mary E. has a secret of getting friends and keeping them, which we would all like to know. She is a happy-go-lucky girl, always ready for fun. We can't picture Mary Elizabeth without Hubert. Nevertheless, she has a good record in Boyden High. We will miss her greatly.

STABLEY BROWN

Entered '24; General Course; Football '28; Athletic Captain '29; Basketball '27-'28; Alt. Captain '29; Baseball '27-'28, Captain '29; Letter Club; Sport editor Annual; Senior Class Treasurer; Banker '28; Athletic Manager; Senior Rotary representative.

Stabley is equally at home, whether, behind the line, on the hardwood, or at shortstop. Though he is probably the most outstanding athlete in the school, his honors are not limited to that field.

BETSY BURT

Entered 1925; Latin Course; Girl Reserves '25-'29; Class Basketball '29; Hockey Team '26-'27; Student Council Representative '28-'29; French Club '28-'29; Glee Club '28-'29; Camp Fire Girls '27-'29; Girl's League '28-'29; Athletic Association; Music Club '28-'29; Chairman Citizenship Committee '27-'28; Cheerio Club '28-'29; Tennis '29.

"Do you not know you are so fair, Brighter than springtime in the air".

Betsy, "cute" and "petite", has blue eyes, fair rosy complexion, and brown hair. Possessed with a cheerful disposition, and an ability far above the average. She will succeed in any phase of work that she undertakes.

BILLY BUSBY

Entered '25; Latin Course; National Honor Society; Assistant Circulation Manager '27; Associate Editor '28; Manager Editor '28-'29; Business Manager Annual '29; Student Council '28-'29; Class Lawyer '29; Senior Rotary Representative '29; Mask and Wig Club '28-'29; Marshal '28; Athletic Association '25-'28; Stunt Manager Senior Carnival '29; Debating Society '27-'28; Hi-Y '29; Junior Class Play '27; Midget Football '28; Midget Basketball '27-'29; Midget Baseball '28 (Manager); Varsity Baseball '29; Golf Team '29; Hardest Worker '29; Smartest '29.

"A mixture of gaiety and seriousness." Billy is one of the hardest workers of our class—he not only works but has plenty of time for fun. We will miss you, Billy, but we know that you have a bright and happy future before you.

ISABEL CAMP

Entered '25; Latin Course; Big Sister '28-'29; Girl Reserves '26-'29, President '27-'28; Chairman of Ways and Means Committee '28-'29, Secretary '27-'28; Debating Club '27-'29, Vice-President '28; Chairman Membership Committee '28; Triangular Debate '28; Athletic Association '28; Student Council '28-'29; Chairman of Citizenship committee '28-'29; Dramatic Club '28-'29; Cast Senior Play "Kempy."

"Issy" has a charming way which has won for her many friends. She always has a smile for everyone—and especially Max. We will miss you and your cute ways of vamping the "shieks", but we predict for you a happy and successful future.

NORMAN CHURCH

Entered '27; General Course; Hi-Y '27-'29; Golf Team '27-'28; Glee Club '27-'28; Dramatic Club '28-'29; Advertising Manager, "Only Me"; Advertising Manager, "Contest Plays"; Cast "Economical Boomerang"; Radio Club '27-'28; Treasurer '27; Home Room Vice-President '28, Secretary '27; Class Basket Ball '29; Athletic Association '28-'29; Assistant Librarian '28-'29; Cheerio Club '29; Spanish Club '27-'28; Box Office Manager, "Gypsy Rover" Senior Play '29; Junior Class Cheer Leader '27-'28; Treasurer Glee Club '27.

Gangway! Here comes a very care-free disposition, surrounded by a popular human being. He has his worries, as we all do, but he doesn't let the outside world know about them. Norman is one of the sheiks of the senior class. He doesn't seem to study, but he passes his work—we suppose he's a genius. Success and happiness are sure to be in store for him.

MARGIE CLODFELTER

Entered '24; Home Economics Course; Home Economics Club '28-'29.

"Love, Sweetness, Goodness in her person shine."

Margie's sweet personality and quiet nature have won for her many friends. She is a true blue girl and never forgets, as many of us do, and becomes too gay or reckless; she can be depended upon. We feel quite sure that she will make a success in life.

WILLIAM McCUNE COLE

Entered '25; Latin Course; Hi-Y Club '27-'29; Midset Football '27-'28; Debating Club '27-'29; Triangular Debating Team '29; Secretary Hi-Y '27-'28; Dramatic Club '28-'29; Glee Club '27-'28; Poetry Club '29; In Cast of "Only Me", and "The Crows Nest".

Folks, you are now looking at the Dramatic talent of our school. Bill has figured in several plays that has been given in B. H. S. Besides having dramatic ability, he is an orator. We feel sure that wherever Bill goes he will be a success.

MARGARET COLEY

Entered '25; Latin Course; Home Economics Club '26-'27; Civic Club '26; Dramatic Club '26; Basket Ball '26-'27; Athletic Association '26-'27-'28; Treasurer of Home Room '29; Nurses' Club Treasurer '29; Glee Club '28-'29; Tennis '29; Girl's League '29; Girl Reserves '26-'27-'28; Operetta "Up In The Air" '29.

"She's all that fancy paints her, She's lovely, she's divine."

Margaret has a rare beauty that all the girls envy. She is very popular, both in her studies and with the boys. We predict a bright future for her with many suitors strewn along the way.

KATHRYN COOK

Entered '25; Latin Course; Girl Reserves '25-'29; Dramatic Club '25-'27; Secretary and Treasurer Girl Reserves '26-'29; Debating Club '27-'29; Alternate debating team '27-'29; Big Sister '28-'29; Student Council '28-'29; Office '28-'29; Athletic Association '25-'28; Chairman Home Room Program Committee '26-'27; Girl's League '28-'29.

"Eva," as her friends call her, is one of the hardest working students in the school. Don't get the idea she is a bookworm though, because she isn't. She isn't working on studies—she is out helping people; ask Miss Norman if you don't believe this. Kathryn has worked hard and faithfully in the office. Don't forget Kathryn is one of the best debaters in the class too.

WALTER M. COOK, JR.

Entered '24; Latin Course; Hi-Y '26-'29; Debating Club '28-'29; Dramatic Club '28-'29; Student Council '27-'28; Point System Committee '28-'29; Candidate for Track '28-'29; Operetta "Up In The Air" '29; Athletic Secretary '27-'28; Glee Club '27-'29.

Hard work does not seem to make "Walt" flinch a bit. He is one of our most industrious boys, and is an outstanding member of 216. We are sure Walter will make a success of his future undertakings.

FRANCES CORNELISON

Entered '25; Science Course; Glee Club '27-'29; Music Club '29; Treasurer Home Room '26-'27; Operetta "Gypsy Rover" '28.

Here is cheerfulness personified! "Fritz" is a jolly happy-go-lucky-girl and has an unquenchable amount of humor. We hope that her attractive personality will make her as popular through life as it has in high school.

CHARLES CROSS

Entered '25; Latin Course; Orchestra '25-'29; Band '28-'29; Cheerio Club '28-'29 Traffic Comm. '28-'29.

"A Merry One"
Within the limit of becoming mirth, Charles is an all-round good sport. His jolly ways have made him a host of friends and we are sure that he will make many more in college. As to the ladies—well, we really couldn't say, but we notice that he has seemed to enjoy helping a certain blond Sophomore, across the aisles on history class, to find the date of the Civil War.

LUCILLE CURLEE

Entered '25; Latin Course; Girl Reserves '25-'26; Girl's Council '25-'26; Vice-President Nurses' Club '28-'29.

Jolly, a good sport, a good scholar, a popular "fille"—all these things make up only a part of Lucille's character. Everyone has always liked her good natured and cooperative spirit.

J. P. CURLEE

Entered '25; Science Course; Basket Ball Squad '26-'27-'29; Midget Football '28-'29; Base Ball Squad '27-'28; Track Squad '29; Glee Club '29; Science Club '29; Camera Club '28; Aviation Club '29; Cheerio Club '29.

Ah! Here comes the dignity of the senior class. Perhaps so, but that makes him no less fine as a fellow. He's an athlete too. Although he has not made the first teams, he has shown that he is not a quitter. His ability to keep trying, his quiet nature, and his sunny disposition have made him a general favorite among his classmates.

ARNOLD WILLIAM DALTON

Entered '25; Science Course; Radio Club '27-'29; Music Club '28-'29; Aviation Club '28-'29.

Arnold isn't a bit snobbish although he does go around with his head in the clouds. He is a hard worker, and what he doesn't know about Math. isn't worth knowing. Arnold likes to "putter" around with engines and mechanisms; he made a generator in chemistry this year. No doubt we have a budding Edison here among us. We wish him success in whatever he undertakes.

AGNES ALESA DEAL

Entered '28; General Course; Editor of the "Dispatch"; Thanksgiving Play '25; Captain of "Care Fu Bui Club."

Agnes came to us from Songdo Foreign School, Korea, just last term, but she immediately won the admiration of all her classmates for her ability to be exempt on all of her subjects. Agnes is rather quiet and studious, but once you know her, you find her to be a thoroughly lovable girl. B. H. S. wishes her the best of luck and regrets that it did not know her sooner.

SARA DORSETT

Entered '28; Latin Course; Assembly Committee '28-'29; President Latin Club '28-'29; Dramatic Club '28-'29. Girl Reserves '28-'29; Secretary Home Room '28-'29.

"Feminism is a virtue—rare and divine". Sara is popular with everyone especially the boys, who haven't a chance when she raises her baby eyes with a look that seems to say, "O, I think you're wonderful!" Sara though "baby faced", certainly isn't dumb as the solid "E's" on her report card can testify.

CARROLL EARNHARDT

Entered '25; Science Course; Basket Ball '28-'29; S'thlete Club '29; Home Room Chairman '28; Radio Club '27.

"None but himself can be his parallel." "Cal", as some call him, is termed by some of his teachers as being lazy and talkative; but in spite of this, he has been a valuable member of the basket-ball squad for the past few years, and it is certain that his wise jokes and ability to make his class laugh will be sincerely missed next year.

FREEDA EDMUNDSON

Entered '24; Home Economics Course; Big Sister '28-'29; Novelty Art Club '28.

"Hang sorrow; Care killed a cat." Freeda although voted the laziest member of the senior class is not failing anything. For her never ending plan of jokes, she is admired by many. We know she will be successful in whatever she attempts to do.

DOROTHY ENNIS

Entered '25; Latin Course; Girl Reserves '25-'29; Secretary '27; Program Committee '26-'27; Dramatic Club '26-'28; Mistress of make-up and assistant in scenery for "Only Mc" and three one act plays; Home Room Cheer leader '28; Glee Club '27-'28; Part in "Gypsy Rover" '28; Assistant to Librarian '27; Home Room Secretary; Athletic Association '26-'27; Member of Athletic Association '26-'29; Cheerio Club '29; Girl's League '29; Field Day Events '23-'29; Class Basket Ball '27.

"Not too serious, not too gay; but a jolly good fellow in every way." "Dot" is one of the most attractive members of the senior class. She has a certain individuality and ability to make friends easily. She has mastered the art of stage make-up hence she is invaluable to our dramatic club. A happy future is certainly in store for her.

ELIZABETH FEAMSTER

Entered '25; Latin Course; Girl Reserves '25-'29; Hockey '27; Class Basket Ball '28-'29; Music Club '28-'29; French Club '28-'29; Vice-President '29; Volley Ball '26; Girls' Camp Fire '27-'29; Field Day Events '25-'29; Girl's League '28-'29; Home Room Chairman '26-'27; Athletic Association '25-'29; Dramatic Club '28-'29; Cheerio Club '28-'29; Tennis '29.

"Lib" has rare qualities. She can always be charming. Everyone at Boyden High likes her especially Betsy. Her weakest point is "giggling", but we can forgive her for that. We know her road will be an easy one.

ROYDEN FEAMSTER

Entered '24; Science Course; Hi-Y Club '24-'29.

In this lad we find a combination of qualities seldom possessed by an individual. He is a serious worker, and above all a genuine friend. If the past and present are any indications of the future, his success is assured. We are proud to call him our friend!

VIRGINIA FOIL

Entered '24; General Course; Girl Reserves '24-'28; Vice-President '24-'27; Monogram Club '24-'29; Press Reporter '28-'29; Tennis Club '26-'29; Varsity Basketball '27-'29; Captain '28-'29 Varsity Hockey '26-'28; Captain '27-'28; Track '24-'29; French Club '26-'27; Cheerio Club '29; Athletic Association '24-'29; Secretary '27-'28; Big Sister '28-'29; Secretary Senior Class; Business Manager of "Echo" '28-'29; Editor-in-chief of Annual '29; Asst. Librarian '28-'29.

"Here's to the girl that's strictly in it. Plays well the game and knows the limit." "Ginna" is a sincere and lovable character. She has a magnetism in her way of speaking and acting which has brought to her a large following in the students of Boyden Hi. She is one of our best athletes and a true friend. Her ever ready smile and charming personality will be greatly missed.

JEAN FREEMAN

Entered '25; Latin Course; Girl Reserves '25-'29; Big Sister '28-'29; Music Club '28-'29; Athletic Association '25-'29; Girl's League '29; Tennis Club '29; French Club '28-'29.

"Not much talk—a great sweet silence." If you want a true friend go to Jean. She is a reserved girl but you can tell by the numerous "E's" on her report card that she is a good student. Jean surely has a happy and successful future in store for her.

LLOYD GOODMAN

Entered '25; Latin Course; Hi-Y '27-'29; President Sophomore Hi-Y '27; President Student Organization '28-'29; S'thlete Club '27-'29; Varsity Basket Ball '27-'29, Captain '28-'29; Football '28-'29; Track '28-'29.

"Handsome" is one of the best know figures that walks up and down our halls. Lloyd is so qu'et and retiring that you would never suspect the many honors he has carried off during his high school career. "Handsome" is not only outstanding as the president of the student body, but also because his four years of varsity football and basketball have made him a familar figure on the gridiron and the hardwood. His outstanding weaknesses are blushing and "Betsy".

HARRY GRAHAM

Entered '25; Science Course; Hi-Y '26-'29; Triangular debate Alternate '28-'29; Science Club '28-'29; Debating Club '29; S'thlete Club '28-'29; President Class '28-'29; Bank Cashier '25-'28; Midget Football '27-'29; Midget Basketball Captain '28; Varsity Basketball '27-'29; Baseball '27-'29; Chief Marshal '28; Class Cheer Leader '27-'28.

"Pooky"—Before our eyes we see one of the most handsome of all "Pookies". He is one of our best athletes in midget football and in varsity basket-ball. He is also president of our senior class. Fannie is mighty proud of OUR boy, in fact we are all proud of him for he is a friend to all.

HAZELINE GRUBB

Entered '26; Home Economics Course; Home Economics Club '26-'27; Novelty Art Club '28; Glee Club '27; Music Club '29; Big Sister '28-'29.

Hazeline, though hardly ever seen talking is a good student and through her quiet nature, has won many friends. She enters heartily in to every thing she undertakes, for which reasons we feel sure that the problems of life will be no task for her. We hate to see her leave B. H. S. but with her goes our very best wishes.

B. W. HALL

Entered '25; Science Course; Music Club '28-'29; Aviation Club '29.

Most amative gent' is B. W.
Always ready to love you;
And when he smiles at a girl
Boy! her heart goes in a whirl—
If he is full of leve,
He has been the one to shove
In hi. school duties all round
Without a whimper or a sound.

Louis, we hate to lose you, but we know you are going on to higher things; so here's to the best of luck!

ERNEST HARVIEL

Entered '25; Science Course; Aviation Club '29.

Ernest is one of our exceptions as a student. Although he is quiet and tends to his own business, he takes time to get around among his friends and enjoy life. Here's hoping that good fortune will not only follow him all his life, but that it will also be his constant companion.

Margaret will undoubtedly make a great success of whatever she chooses for her life work, for she is blessed by that subtlety known as personality.

ELIZABETH EUGENIA LEONARD

Entered '24; Latin Course; Girl Reserves '24-'26; Glee Club '25-'28; "Gypsy Rover" '28.

Her mother must have taught her that children should "be seen and not heard." When you get Elizabeth's friendship, though, you are indeed a wealthy person. She is loving and kind; has high ideals; and is an extremely sympathetic individual. She doesn't demand much either—just a little love.

Librarian '28-'29.

"All's well that ends well", so we have to admit that Lucy's four years at B. H. S. were successful. Lucy is here one minute and there the next, and probably this accounts for her being our most popular girl. She is a girl that we admire most sincerely, and one who will never be forgotten.

RALPH LIPPARD

"Little but Loud."

Joe is of small stature but, nevertheless, he makes plenty of noise. His greatest pleasure is in picking at the girls. What would Joe do without Fay? We often wonder. He is liked by everyone and we know some college will be proud to claim him.

ROBERT LYERLY

Entered '25; Science Course; Science Club '28-'29; Aviation Club '29.

A man of real worth is always appreciated and Robert is. We cannot say, however, that the lad has been a great social hit during his high school days on account of the quietness he has practiced; you never know he is around unless you see him. We do not know what to predict for him when he leaves here, but we are sure that he will succeed.

THOMAS MASHBURN

Entered '25; Latin Course; Debating Club '26-'28; Home Room Chairman; Triangular Debater '28-'29; Radio Club '28-'29; Cast "Only Me"; Class Historian; Hi-Y Member '28-'29.

"Bid me discourse, I will enchant your ears."

"Tommy" is a debater of no mean ability. However, his popularity does not depend wholly on a "Lot of wind" for he is a charming fellow and is well liked for his easy going disposition.

"Pessom" is a charming girl with a personality that cannot be rejected. She has some unknown power of "vamping" the boys. A Chrysler Roadster is her weakness; we wonder why? Boyden High's loss, but Meredith's gain; a bright future is in store for her.

ROBERT McQUAGE

"Tootie" as she is called by her friends was voted the prettiest girl in the senior class but she is the kind that will not let her attractiveness interfere with her scholastic record as shown by her report card. "Tootie's" work in dramatics has been outstanding. We all wish her success.

"Dan" as she is familiarly known to her fellow classmates, entered high school with a determination to succeed in her work. A strong will-power and good, sound judgment make Francis an admirable character. He was elected the most conceited boy in the class, and rightly so. He is envied by all the girls—What wouldn't they give to have his beautiful curly locks? Francis has some unknown power of attracting friends, and he truly has lots of them.

WOODROW MYERS

Entered '25; Science Course; Camera Club '27-'28; C-Why Science Club '28-'29.

Woodrow hails from out in the sticks; he is the fellow that "chauffeurs the bus from up the country". He has put it here every day there was school, even if he has been just a little late sometimes. Woodrow is one of these fellows that you see every day but still do not see all of his worth. He is a fellow that works, but few people realize the work that he completes. He is one of the high lights of the Physics Class this year.

Here's to Phil! a living specimen of personified optimism.

Phil's apparent philosophy of life is a good one; he works when he works, and plays when he plays. Philip is headed for the best that is in the paper business. With his fine record here as a sample of future work, we believe that he is on the way to success.

"Niver's" high school career has a varied selection of activities. She is a Big Sister to be proud of, and a Girl Reserve member well worth having. "Niver" is very popular with certain boys and girls of Boyden High, especially with her gang—"Fan", "Issy", and "Pessie." The school will not seem like the same place without her chatting and giggling.

Here's wishing you the best of everything as you go through life!

"Gentlemen Prefer Blonds," at least that is what a certain person in 217 thinks. However, Fannie does not let this interfere with her studies in the least. Besides being an able worker, Fannie is full of fun and pep. Here's hoping that she will make as big a success in life, in future years, as she did in B. H. S.

Bruce wears a Big Block "S" on his sweat-er won on the football field fighting for BLACK and GOLD. Although he has not worked very diligently in high school, we believe that he will do good work at Carolina next year. Remember the race of the "Tortoise and the Hair" Bruce? It's not the start that counts so much, but the finish.

MILDRED RITCHIE

Although Ruth is not very fond of studying, she manages to pass her work all right. She is full of fun and very friendly, a good girl in every way. Here's wishing for her much success in her future life!

MILDRED ROSEMAN

Entered '25; Latin Course; Athletic Association '26; Latin Club '27-'29; French Club '27-'28; Music Club '29; Big Sister '28-'29; Home Room Banker '29; Cheerio Club '29; Traffic Committee '29.

Mildred is a person who is always ready to help but never worries whether she will receive credit and praise commensurate with her efforts. Her four years at Boyden High have been full of work of all kinds, with plenty of attention to outside duties as well as to her studies. She will certainly make a success of what ever she attempts if she works with the same enthusiasm that she has shown here.

ALLAN ROUZER

Entered '25; Latin Course; Hi-Y '27-'29; Athletic Association '26-'29; Band '27-'28; Orchestra '28-'29; Track '28-'29; St'hlete Club '28-'29; Senior Representative Student Council '28-'29; Spanish Club '28-'29; Cheerio Club '28-'29.

"Behind those eyes lies what?" Allan has his own peculiar way of appearing lazy. He sits back in his chair apparently dreaming, but there is always something brewing in his mind. We never know what to expect from him next. Besides being one of the best citizens of the senior class, Allan is also a good track man and one who will be greatly missed in Boyden High.

EMIEL SALEEBY

Entered '21; General Course; Football '27-'28; Basket Ball '28; Hi-Y '26; St'hlete Club '28-'29; Echo '27-'28; Home Room Secretary and Treasurer '28; Banker '28.

Most of Emiel's interest is centered around athletics, and he seems at his best on the athletic field where he has made many fine records. Emiel is very influential among his friends and a willing helper to all in need.

NINA SHUPING

Entered '25; Latin Course; Council Member '25-'26; Home Economics Club '26-'28; Dramatic Club '26-'29; House Manager for "Only Me" '28; Chairman Program Committee Dramatic Club '28-'29; French Club '28-'29; Big Sister '28-'29; Girl's League '29; Traffic Committee '28-'29.

"Ah quiet lass, there are but few, who know the treasure hid in thee." Nina's pleasant smile is a characteristic of hers which we all admire. Through her lovable disposition and good work, she has become a favorite with both students and faculty. You can always depend on Nina to help you when you're in a pinch, with a kind cheerfulness that immediately makes your work seem half done.

Entered '25; Latin Course; Debating Club '28; Dramatic Club '29; Athletic Association '29; Storekeeper '29; Statistician '29; Athletic Manager 216 '29; Traffic Committee '29.

A. C. SKINNER

Entered '25; Latin Course; Hi-Y '28-'29; Reporter Echo '25-'26; Athletic Association '26-'27; Football Team '28-'29; Basket Ball Team '27-'28; Track Team '28-'29; Debating Club '28-'29; Dramatic Club '28-'29; Latin Club '28-'29; S'thlete Club '28-'29; Cheerio Club '28-'29; Class Basket Ball and Baseball teams.

A. C. is quite well known in Boyden High. He has taken life rather easy in high school, but, nevertheless, he seems to make very good grades. We hope that he will not find college any harder next year.

KEARNEY K. SMITH

Entered '25; Latin Course; Vice-President Girl Reserves '26-'27; Dramatic Club '27-'28; Debating Club '27-'28; Big Sister '28-'29; Athletic Association '28-'29.

If you want a big noise see Kearney. However, she has lots of sense and is a good student when she closes her mouth and uses her head. Kearney isn't a bit backward in expressing her opinion on any subject whatsoever, and always promises to be quite frank with you about it. However, in spite of her faults which we all share, we like her a lot and wish her an easy path to success.

LOIS SMITH

Entered '25; Home Economics Course; Home Room Treasurer '29; Home Room Chairman '26-'28; Treasurer Junior Class '27; Home Economics Club '28-'29, Vice-President; Vice-President Senior Class '29; Glee Club '29; Operetta "Up In The Air" '29; Athletic Association '26.

"To know her is to love her."

Lois is a jolly, happy-go-lucky girl. She is smart in her studies, yet she believes in having a good time. She has many admirers, but it always seems a case of; "He came, He saw; She conquered."

JIMMIE SPARKS

Entered '24; General Course; Hi-Y '25-'26; Glee Club '28; Vice-President Glee Club '27; Athletic Association '25-'27; Cast "Only Me" '28-'29; "Economical Boomerang" '29; Dramatic Club '28-'29; Secretary of Dramatic Club '29; Manager Baseball '28; Manager Football '29; Tennis Team '27; Home Room Secretary and Treasurer '27; Class Basket Ball '28-'29; Librarian's Assistant '29; Home Room Athletic Manager '28-'29; Cheerio Club '29; French Club '28; "Gypsy Rover" '27; Orchestra '24-'25; "Senior Play" '28-'29; Home Room Cheer Leader '27; Home Room President '26; Banker of 212, '27; Office work '29.

Jimmie is an ardent admirer of beauty. In the superlatives, he was elected the best dressed and the biggest flirt. The Mask and Wig Club claims Jimmie as one of its best actors as he was cast in its big productions.

SADIE STRANGE

Entered '24; General Course; Volley Ball '27; Basket Ball '28; Science Club '28; Home Economics Club '28-'29.

Sadie is the gayest of the gay. If there is any prospect of a good time she is sure to be on hand. Sadie never looks for trouble and seldom finds any. We are sure that she will find happiness throughout life.

JOHN THOMAS

Entered '25; Science Course; Member of Hi-Y, Aviation Club, Manager Track Team '29; Manager Midget Basket and Football '28-'29; Midget Basket Ball '27-'28; Home Room President '29; Athletic Association.

John is one of the most talkative boys of the senior class and has many humorous and witty tales to tell. He is the kind that does not worry about the duties of life, but sits about as though he enjoyed overcoming obstacles. John is a great lover of athletics, but a poor lover of the ladies. Some day we hope that he will change.

MAX THOMASON

Entered '25; Science Course; Home Room Chairman '25-'26; Class Baseball, and Basket Ball '25-'26; Basket Ball, Football, Baseball, Track, Home Room Banker, Athletic Association '26-'27; Football, Basket Ball; Baseball, S'thlete, '27-'28; Club, Athletic Association, Football, Basketball, Baseball, Member Student Council, S'thlete Club (Secretary and Treasurer) Athletic Home Room Manager, Dramatic Club '28-'29.

Just listen to that noise! What in the world can it be? Why, it's one of the star athletes of Boyden Hi! Max and his Ford are very popular in B. H. S., and are well known by nearly everyone. The basketball team will suffer a great loss when Max leaves us. He also has dramatic ability which was shown in the "Confessional."

WILLIAM D. TALBERT

Entered '24; General Course; Hi-Y '26-'29; Science Club '28-'29; Aviation Club '29; Midget Football '27; Athletic Association '24-'29; Class Basket Ball '29.

Here's our puzzle. Bill has been accused of being a victim of ergophobia. This is probably an exaggeration, for Bill is always seen with a smile, and every one knows it takes energy to smile. Bill loves a practical joke, hut hest when it's on the other fellow. As a woman hater, he is neutral. He is liked and befriended by every one, due to his never fading smile. If it rained characters it would never rain one like Bill.

JUNIUS THOMASON

Entered '25; Science Course; Science Club '27-'29; Varsity Basket Ball '28-'29; Varsity Baseball '28-'29; Sky High Club '28-'29; S'thlete Club '28-'29.

Junius is a boy on whom one can depend; he is an earnest hard worker who believes in doing things well. He is a sincere fellow and willing to do anything for his comrades. Truly it can be said that his purpose in life is high and his determination is strong. We hope for him success in all things worth while.

VERA MAE UZZELL

Entered '25; Latin Course; Girls' Basket Ball Team '27-'29; Girl Reserves '25-'29; Big Sister '28-'29; French Club '28-'29; Senior Dramatic Club '29; Volley Ball Team '25-'26; Glee Club '28-'29; Cheerio Club '28-'29; Music Club '28-'29; Girls' League '28-'29; Program Committee '25-'27; Field Day Events, Running Broad Jump, Target Throw, High Jump; House Keeping Committee '26; Tennis Team '29.

Vera who has a firm, steady but easy going disposition has made a good record during her four years in high school. We are sure that she will make a real success of life.

KATE WHITAKER

Entered '25; General Course; Home Economics Club '27-'28; Girl Reserves '25; Glee Club '28-'29; Science Club.

Kate is one of the sweetest girls in the class, but one has to know her to like her because she is reserved. She is always ready to get down to work but her motto is "Work without play makes Jack a dull boy." The world holds great success for Kate in the future.

THE HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1929

In order to determine the value of this class as a unit and therefore to determine a very important point in this case, I shall look back into its history as a unit.

If we are to believe the historians of the past, all Freshmen classes (except ours) were to a certain extent excited. The main difference between ours and other classes is that we, that is most of us, were more than a certain extent excited. However, hands stopped shaking and knees stopped knocking when we beheld the familiar faces of two of our former instructors; Miss Reynolds and Miss Peacock. It was, besides, a surprise and a relief to find that two of our former teachers were to continue with us. It must be supposed that they thought that they had failed in grammar school and had come to give us that knowledge that we had not received there. We soon found, however, that this free knowledge was as hard to receive as a C. O. D. shipment of gold bricks.

According to the records our freshman year was a hard one; a number of our students were retarded on account of insufficient knowledge (some call it bad luck).

However, a very much larger group that was able to give the appearance of knowledge returned to resume what they had learned the year before. This year the interest of the class in outside activities was much more pronounced than it had been in the freshman year. About this time we began to hear about certain friendly relations between one Lloyd Goodman and another Betsy Burt. Also about this time Bill, better known as Nanny Cole, developed his famed ability to write in several people's hand writing. Many other things of note happened in our sophomore year, but since these are too numerous to tell here I will pass on to the more interesting and important Junior year.

This year was marked by an increased interest in the government of the school and in the many outside activities of the year. While Lloyd Goodman, Staley Brown and others were bringing athletic fame upon themselves and the class, Francis Murdoch and Isabel Camp had entered the ranks of the debaters as members of the first team. This year also saw the victory of the Junior class in the field day meet. In the third floor hall under the leadership of Clellie Lucas, the class held the Junior-Senior Banquet which will go down in the records as one of the most successful social events of the season.

In many respects this year was one of the brightest of the four which we have spent here, but in one respect it must be considered the sadest. For early in the fall the man who was admired by all of our class as one of the greatest scholars and educators of the day was taken from us. When he was taken away the class lost not only an eminent scholar and instructor, but what is more important it lost a faithful and understanding friend. For the rest of the year Mr. Phillips very capably handled the duties of Mr. John, but no one will ever be able to fill the place he filled as a friend.

And now I pass to a different group—important and dignified Seniors of 1929. I was surprised to find how different the senior class of '29 was not from the junior class of '28. It was composed of almost the same old friends, but how busy most of them were. It was their number that filled the casts of the plays and athletic teams. It was from their numbers that leaders in Student Government were taken. I take pride in pointing to the record of that class. I need not tell of the progress that our student government has attained under their leadership. There are two who regard this as the result of our own labor and ability; these are Francis Murdoch and Agnes Menius (elected most conceited). The rest of us agree that much of this is due to the capability and leadership of our new principal Mr. Knox and of the faculty who backed him up. Another feature of the graduation will be that the students will wear caps and gowns. This year we plan to have the first graduation exercises put on by the members of the graduating class. Billie Cole and Francis Murdoch have done much as members of the cast of the Crow's Nest to add to our dramatic glory. This year many Seniors have enjoyed the Dramatic class, studying the art of acting, and of stage work.

As this year draws to a close, I feel that I have a right to reflect with pride upon the record of the class of '29, but most of my attention is drawn to the bright future that I think will come to this class.

—Thomas Mashburn.

*O, Seniors to you now we sing,
Your praises ever shall ring,
As Freshman, Sophomore and Juniors
Our spirits ne'ner did fall—
And in the years to come.
O, Boyden High to you—
Our love and loyalty we pledge—
O blue and white, O blue and white,
we sing to you.*

SENIOR CLASS STATISTICS

When in the course of time it becomes necessary for a senior class to graduate from high school, it must choose from its members one unfortunate individual call the "Statistician". I say unfortunate because it is really a task to obtain facts about the senior class, since some of its members seem to think that it is none of the statistician's business to get the so called "low down" on them.

I have found that the senior class is a rather "weighty" proposition for it weighs twenty thousand seven hundred twenty-three pounds. It also carries its head high in the clouds, for it stretches upward to the extent of five hundred eighty-five feet.

The class is one thousand two hundred sixty-two years old, not counting Ralph Lippard for he does not know his age.

As to the hair, brown is the leading color with sixty-two boosters. Seventeen have black, seven blonde, and four red; while Woodrow Myers has transparent hair and Virginia Foil does not know the color of hers.

Forty have brown eyes, twenty-seven have blue eyes, seven have green, five gray, six hazel, and Julia McKinney is something of a freak with one blue and one brown.

Befitting its dignity, the group is well dressed, the boys having an average of eleven neckties and three suits each and the girls an average of nineteen dresses each.

Next comes the foot gear. The girls wear an average of five shoe while the boys average number eight (this being raised considerably by the immense foot proportions passed by A. C. Skinner, Arnold Dalton, and Clyde Plyler.)

The males claim that they have one hundred and thirty sweethearts or an average of three apiece, but so many claim the same ones that it is impossible to tell how many of the fairer sex they have ensnared.

The group seems to have a hearty liking for walking, since forty walk. However, thirty-four ride in cars—among them being Max Thomason and Clifford Hodge in their "Jewish Packards", and none ride the school busses. The street cars seem to be losing popularity for only one rides them regularly. The rest are bums.

The majority of the pupils have finished in the specified four years, but some have not. Seventy-two have finished in four years, but the others seemed so reluctant to leave that they remained—three for four and one half years, twelve for five years, and one has even graced us with her presence for six years.

I do hereby prophesy a great effect upon the State of North Carolina when this august body is released.

—Shelton Shuping.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Borne upon the wings of a dream, I fared forth in a flight of fancy across Elysian fields and over mystic mountains that I might for a moment experience the supreme bliss of a fleeting glimpse down the great corridor of the future twenty-five years hence. What marvelous imagination drew back the curtain of the present, and I was permitted to look upon the careers of my class-mates!

Before I attempt to guide you down the dim and distant avenues of the future, and disclose to you these noble careers as revealed in this wonderful dream-journey, I desire that you give rein to your imagination and wander with me for a moment into the mystic realms where all mortals are occasionally wont to roam.

We are now about to experience a lapse of twenty-five years' time in about as many seconds. My but, haven't things changed!

Who would have dreamed that within twenty-five years we would be conversing with the inhabitants of Mars? Yet, thanks to some of my class-mates that is just what we are doing today.

As I looked upon the top of a western mountain where Ralph Lippard, Royden Feamster, and Woodrow Myers are conducting their station and astronomical observatory, I learned with astounding admiration that they were communicating freely with Frank Irvin, who now enjoys the unique distinction of being the first inhabitant of the earth to visit Mars. His trip there was a novel one. He had fallen in love with a certain fair damsel who suddenly turned him down. Frank couldn't bear the thought of this, so he tied a heavy steel ball to his neck and hastened to the river; there to drown his sorrow along with himself. But Dame Fortune took a hand in the game; a blazing comet soaring from out of the sky, swept by the earth. The tail of the comet possessed highly magnetic properties which attracted the ball that was tied to Frank's neck. Consequently, he suddenly felt himself being swept majestically along in the wake of the comet, until all knowledge of time and space was lost to him. Finally he saw a beautiful planet just beneath him. He untied the rope and fell with a loud splash into a canal on Mars. He was rescued by a Martian beauty whom he soon married. Frank later succeeded in establishing communication with his friends on earth.

Journeying through the mid-west, I found the palatial homes of Ruth McCrary, Mildred Ritchie, and Marjorie Clodfelter, who are now very successful farmerettes. I learned from these friends that B. W. Hall and James Barger are now holding responsible positions on the police force of Chicago.

One bright Sunday morning, after arriving at Denver, Colorado, as I watched the people hurrying through the crowded streets, one person especially attracted my attention. It was Clyde Plyler. He still had that sprightly step, pleasant smile, and erect figure, but years of toil had planted their stamp upon his brow. With dignity he entered a large church, where he delivered a sermon that I thought might have almost startled the philosophers of old.

As I wandered on, I came to Hollywood where I was permitted to look in upon the studio of Thomas Mashburn, the great movie magnate. I found Lois Smith, Margaret Coley, and Elizabeth Belt employed as "directresses". They were filming one of Zelma Ayer's master productions. I was agreeably surprised to meet Ruby Parrish, Lucille Curlee, and Francis Cornelison in Hollywood. They had come West hoping to look after some recently acquired oil interest. They expect soon to be millionaires as a result of their newly discovered gushers. From here one can get a splendid view of the cattle ranches of Guy Propst and Shelton Shuping, where Earnest Harviel, Robert Lyerly, and Preston Lemley are enjoying the thrills of western life in the role of cow-boys. I was pleased to note Robert McQuage was director of athletics at Stanford University.

Sadie Strange, Elizabeth Leonard, Mildred Belt, and Janet Lentz have formed a corporation and have purchased the Great Salt Lake in anticipation of operating the greatest salt works in the world.

In Arizona John Thomas and Carroll Earnhardt were delving into some old ruins, presumably in an effort to establish a more direct lineage between themselves and these whom some suspect of being their ancient ancestors.

On the Mississippi, Bruce Ridenhour and Bill Talbert have the distinct honor of managing the largest whaling industry in the South.

Inspelled by their common love of gaiety and high life, Walter Cook and Frances Murdoch went on the stage. They are now conducting a vaudeville in a small Louisiana town, where they are making a great success.

In Atlanta I found that J. P. Curlee is one of the most influential bankers in Georgia. He is the only multi-millionaire of the entire class.

Lloyd Goodman and Betsy Burt were the first members of the class to wed. Lloyd is now pastor of a large church in Spartanburg, South Carolina which position he fills with masterful eloquence, quite likely due to Betsy's inspiration.

The next place to which my attention was attracted, by the side of several landmarks, I recognized as the old home town. I found that Louis Harrison had been elected mayor and that Catherine Brown, Nina Shuping, and Virginia Owen were members of the City Council. Some of the most attractive business and professional signs which I noticed were: "Ruth Kesler, Justice of the Peace," "Law Firm of Edith Holshouser and Ethel Kirkman," "Butterfly Beauty Parlor", with Nava Powlas Jessie Pitman, and Elizabeth McCall, experts in charge, Freda Edmundson and Kate Whitaker, "Dentists-Teeth Pulled With or Without Thrills". Here the broadcasting station is largely taking the place of the newspaper. Some of the latest bits of news that they were broadcasting which I thought might be of interest to my class-mates were: "Agnes Merius, American prima-donna wins applause of Europe; Philip Monroe and A. C. Skinner succeed in establishing the first permanent settlement at the South Pole; Virginia Foil elected Governor of North Carolina with overwhelming majority; Billy Cole declares himself a candidate for the presidency running on independent ticket."

Billy, realizing Robert Linn Bernhardt's political ability, had chosen him as his campaign manager. Robert was one of the foremost politicians of the day. His speeches swept over the people like a rushing torrent and engulfed them in their eloquence.

On the outskirts of the city is the large air-port. Here, Lottie Anderson, Margaret Lentz, Mary Elizabeth Brown, Joe Lyerly and Emiel Saleeby are all engaged in aerial navigation. I was surprised to learn of the air-mindedness of these class-mates and to know that some of their aerial achievements almost rivalled those of Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh.

The high school has grown to be quite an institution with Philip Miller as principal and Sara Dorsett, Evelyn Anderson, and Agnes Deal members of the faculty, all engaged in the glorious work of imparting knowledge. Speaking of teaching reminds me that Nellie Morgan had prepared for the teaching profession, but greater excitements were in store for her. In less than a year she met a handsome aviator; it was a case of love at first sight. They eloped in an aeroplane, and surprised their friends by flying to the Alps on their honeymoon.

Thelma Lemly, Vera Mae Uzzell, Ruth Ritchie, and Kearney Smith chose stenography as their profession. Kearney was engaged as court stenographer for several years, but her winsome ways and cooing voice soon captured the affections of a young lawyer. Thelma, Vera Mae and Ruth are still remaining true to the joys of single blessedness.

Arriving in Washington, I learned that Jane Kluttz is one of the most conspicuous figures in public eye today. She has represented her state in the U. S. Senate for two successive terms, but has lately resigned her seat because of the wish of her husband, Stahley Brown, that she retire from public eye and assist him as Sports Editor of the "Daily Tribune". And you may not believe it, but there in Washington were Ralph Bridges and Herbert Hoover receiving honorable recognition from President Philip Peacock for distinguished service. Ralph and Herbert were driving along a country road one day. A terrible drought was holding the country in its grasp, and vegetation on all sides was withering and dying. They noticed in an Irish Potato patch one potato which was faring exceedingly well, in spite of the fact that all its companions were dead. They hastened to investigate and found an onion growing near the potato. The solution dawned upon them; the presence of the onion was causing a continuous flow of tears from the potato's eye, thereby furnishing self-irrigation. The president considered this discovery a great step in the advancement of agriculture. President Peacock chose the Hon. Allen Rouzer as his private secretary. It is said that Allen's words are full of wisdom and are of much value to those who are able to comprehend them.

Desiring to make some observation at Dr. Isabel Camp's Hospital, I went on up to Baltimore. On the way I was delighted to have as congenial friends Julia McKinney and Dorothy Ennis, who were going to New York to open a studio of music and art. Upon reaching the hospital, I found Hazeline Grubb, Mildred Roseman, and Rachel Barnes operating surgeons in charge, and Lucille Hendrix, Viola Hoffner, Mary Kepley, and Mildred Queensbury trained nurses.

As I travelled on, Harvard University in all its stateliness stood out before me. I wondered who of our class-mates could be there. I was not long in doubt, for looking inside, I saw Billy Busby, with all the dignity that becomes a L. L. D., expounding to a group of young lawyers what they are pleased to call a legal technicality.

In New York I attended the theatre where I noticed that Margaret Kirk, Jean Freeman and Charlie Cross were using their musical attainments to good advantage, as the orchestra struck up the air of Norman Church's latest popular numbers, "I'm sitting on Top of the Moon". It was with delight that I witnessed the dramatization by Kathryn Cook, Bunney Helms, Elizabeth Feamster and Jimmie Sparks, of one of Jean Lyerly's famous productions, "The Trials of a Henpecked Husband". Jean is one of the most popular writers of today. She has always had the air of a dreamer, and of such poets and authors composed. These friends informed me that a number of our class-mates were in Europe. So, in order to observe their careers, I had to journey across the Atlantic. I had as pleasant companions on this trip Eugenia Link and Mary Dan Morris, who were going abroad to do advanced study in music. They told me that Junius Thomason and Hugh Julian were in Berlin doing research work in the field of medicine and Beatrice Jennings and Mildred Hinson were somewhere in Europe in the interest of Art.

Arriving in France, I visited the American Embassy where I learned that our tall friend Arnold Dalton, after leaving high school took up the study of law. He later entered the political world. There his career, as befitted his statue, was a rising one. He is now representative of his country in France.

Lucy Linn came to Paris to study fashion designing. Here she fell in love with a dashing young count. He of course fell a victim to her irresistible charms. She is now Le Countesse de Mouton.

In Berlin I was surprised to find that the ruler of Germany had called Clifford Hodge and Max Thomason to his court. In their scientific research they had discovered a use for doughnut holes. The German ruler quite naturally became interested and in recognition of the scientific achievement, wished to decorate them with "The Order of the Iron Doughnut". They, however, declined, stating that they had come in contract with that order at the cafeteria.

Harry Graham left B. H. S. with every intention of entering the ministry. Finally, he realized that the poetic element in him was too strong for him to follow any other calling, so he began his work in earnest. He scattered his lyrics far and wide over the world. His masterpiece, "Ode to a Woodpecker", came to the attention of the king of the Cannibal Islands, who was so deeply moved by its beauty that he at once made Harry poet laureate of his domain.

It was, of course, quite natural that Fannie Rainey, one of the most religiously inclined girls of the class should become a missionary. After some years of preparation she embarked for Africa. Her boat was wrecked in a storm, and she was washed ashore onto a small island. Imagine her surprise when she discovered Harry sitting under a cocoanut tree writing a Pindaric ode. It is said that the meeting of these old sweet-hearts was most pathetic. How he wooed and won her with his love sonnets is a beautiful story.

And now as we leave the mystic reals of the future let us turn to our respective duties of the present, but remember what I have revealed, and if you be a Junior take cognizance of these marvelous careers and strive to follow to the best of your ability the excellent examples of your departed friends, the Seniors.

—Marie Morgan.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Let there be order!! We, the Senior Class of 1929, do, by unanimous consent of each and everyone hold these, the following truths to be self evident: That all men are created equal, that they are endowed by a home of education with certain unalienable rights; that among these are: pleasure, liberty, and pursuit of happiness; that to form a barrier to these rights, a group of ladies and gentlemen, often misunderstood as Faculty is instituted. But now as we are Seniors it has seemed to be their duty, even their privilege and joy to cast away all past abuses and provide new guards for our future security. Wishes and prayers of many years have been answered to some of our honorable roll, including Messrs. William Talbort, Frank Ritch Irvin, Carroll Earnhardt, Hugh Julian, and Stonewall Jackson Yancey. Also it seems evident that whenever any such government is instituted by a group of ladies and gentlemen, already mentioned, calamity and destruction must follow, after, on an average of four years, although some unusual students have endured pains, tortures, and painstaking times amounting well into years.

Thus we, the class of '29, believing ourselves, at the present time, to have membranes in perfect functioning order, some of which are even brilliant, and with no physical defects as yet, have the belief that we are to be overcome by that destruction and calamity in the course of a few days, to your deepest joy and satisfaction. Therefore, we hereby profess and confess, affirm and confirm, swear and declare, revise and devise, make and remake, sound and resound, construct and erect the following Last Will and Testament, hoping yea!! even praying you will take up and proceed with the vocations, professions, confessions, inhabitations, estimations, ambitions, and characteristics, in this dear school, as we so nobly and loyally did not because of ungifted means of accomplishing such a deed or deeds.

Hark! Teachers, students, and otherwise, lend me your ears. The following things will be sacrificed for your benefit, not merely for your pleasure.

ARTICLE ONE—With the uttermost thanksgiving and profound gladness do Margaret Preston Kirk and J. P. Curlee bestow their dignity to Nell Lancaster and Robert Murdoch.

ARTICLE TWO—With an honest and sweaty brow, and hands covered with grime does Virginia Foil hand out her working ability to Margaret Smith.

ARTICLE THREE—Jane Marlin Kluttz and Walter Miller Cook Jr. present their attractiveness to Elizabeth Price and Curtis Williamson, hoping they will uphold it with unstained honor and glory through their married and single years.

ARTICLE FOUR—Popularity is indeed a noble thing; therefore, Jimmie Sparks and Lucy Linn trust that after their own spirits have crumbled to dust that Bernard Williams and Joyce Killinsworth will still cling on it with success.

ARTICLE FIVE—Clifford Hodge, Robert McQuage, Virginia Foil, Virginia Owen, Edith Holshouser, and Elizabeth Belt turn over their athletic ability to Wilburn Newsome, Robert Reeves, Joe Gardner, Lorene Baker, Rochelle Luther, and the Monroe duo.

Staley Brown who in every one's opinion is the greatest star of B. H. S. leaves his athletic ability for all future inmates of this institution to strive forward to.

ARTICLE SIX—In this doomed class few who have the mind of geniouses may be found. Those who are so fortunate are: Shelton Shuping, Hugh Propst, Phillip Peacock, Marie Morgan, Eugenia Link, and Kearney K. Smith. These ladies and gentlemen feeling no longer a need of their wonderful gray matter cast it adrift for Willa Griggs, Genoa Mills, Edward Saleeby, and Harlan Kimball, to collect.

ARTICLE SEVEN—Little discussion or opposition will be made to the following verdict handed down by Mildred Roseman and Junius Thomason: "Elizabeth Wright and Roy David Beaver will from this date be acknowledged as the biggest flirts in B. H. S."

ARTICLE EIGHT—R. Linn Bernhardt gives his indifference, a characteristic that has made him stand in the limelight, to his dear friend Van Barker.

ARTICLE NINE—Knowing his deep interest and enthusiasm for it, to Mr. James E. Moore, we leave all chewing gum found stuck on and under the school furniture.

ARTICLE TEN—Harry Graham hopes no one will ever attempt to pass two motions at once as he did at the first of the year, but gives his cute manners along with John Thomas, Lois Smith, Betsy Burt, and Julia McKinney to certain sophomores and freshmen whose names will be read on request.

ARTICLE ELEVEN—To Miss Rice and Mrs. Crater is left the duty of picking the best citizen, a title left vacant by such seniors as Nina Shuping, Fanny Rainey, Nava Fowles, Thomas Mashburn, Ralph Lippard, Allan Rouzer, and Louis Jennings Harrison.

ARTICLE TWELVE—One hundred and five seniors take with them all confusion and noise which the principal thinks they may have caused in assembly and in their place leave to Mr. Knox a tomb-like silence which may or may not be broken by the remaining seven hundred students.

ARTICLE THIRTEEN—If this article is to be feared we give to the nearest blazing furnace, but if it is lucky we give it to the Freshman class.

ARTICLE FOURTEEN—Lloyd Calvin Goodman hands down his executive ability to Webster Collett, the new president, with the hope that he can convince the student body that all things work for their good.

ARTICLE FIFTEEN—All sidewalk found within fifteen feet from the flag pole is ordered to be sacrificed by the student body for the private use of Kitty Pierce and Harry Buford. This location, which Norman Church and Sarah Dorsett held without legal right until now, has been met successfully by a first installment for all future classes to keep up.

ARTICLE SIXTEEN—Various kinds of talent are possessed by some of our trustworthy members; therefore Beatrice Jennings and Elizabeth Belt, artists extraordinary Mary Dan Morris, Arnold Dalton, and B. W. Hall, future Metropolitan stars; leave their abilities to Eunice Harmon, Taft Hutchins, Herman Kneeble, Anoznetta Fisher, Peggy Fairley, Paul Kearns, Maxine Vogley, and Red Thompson.

ARTICLE SEVENTEEN—To the Faculty who are sending us away, we leave a new Senior class to keep them busy with papers, lectures, and small after school classes.

ARTICLE EIGHTEEN—Isabel Camp and Abie Carr Skinner Jr. leave to Mildred Crowder and Archibald Ruffy their ability to talk in the Library with the hope that they will be sent out less often for this offense.

ARTICLE NINETEEN—Here the entire Senior Class of '29 gives with no ill feeling, but with all sincerity their deepest appreciation and gratitude to Mr. Knox, our beloved principal; and to the entire Faculty an ever growing memory of the kindness and benefit which we have gained from our contact with them.

ARTICLE TWENTY—As a remembrance of our affection for and interests in our Alma Mater we hereby bequeath _____ with the happy wish that it may long prove of use to our beloved school.

Hereupon, we the foresaid Class of 1929, believing ourselves sane and competent do affix our signatures and seal; to this, our Last Will and Testament, May the 21, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and twenty-nine and do hereby appoint as executor, Mr. John Southern, soon to depart with us, signed: William Thomas, David Busby, Jr.

 We'll sing her praises through the land.
 For we are Seniors who soon will leave—
 Our school in fondest memory.
 Our Boyden Hi, we'll always love.
 The school that we are loyal to
 May we defend her Black and Gold
 As we our faithfulness unfold.*

CHORUS

*Oh, Boyden Hi, Dear Boyden Hi,
 We pledge our loyalty to you,
 And guided by your visions true,
 We'll nobler grow as years go by.*

JUNIOR CLASS

The class of '30 entered Boyden High on September 7, 1926. It has received several honors since that time, namely; the cup, awarded for the best class stunt in the first Senior carnival; the election of Kenneth Goodson treasurer of the student body at the birth of the student participation; and a fine showing in athletics with Robert Reeves and Boheeg Saleeby on the varsity football team and, also Faye Anthony and Lorene Baker on the girls' basket ball team.

The participation of the class, as juniors, in so many activities of school life foretells of a very successful year as seniors.

STUDENT ORGANIZATION

Three years ago in answer to a demand from several sources a committee was appointed to investigate the theory and practice of Student Government and the plausibility of some organization of that type being established in Boyden High School. As a result of this committee's investigations a constitution was adopted, a corps of officers and a council elected, and today we have a thriving organization whose purpose is to build character, to develop personality, and to promote the welfare of the student body.

THE C-WHY SCIENCE CLUB

The C-Why Science Club is in its first year of existence. It was organized at the beginning of the school year under the direction of Mr. Southern, for the purpose of arousing interest, stimulating initiative and increasing knowledge of scientific phenomena. The regular bi-weekly programs have been planned so as to carry out this aim.

Membership in the club is limited, by the constitution, to those students now taking, or those who have had Chemistry or Physics. All new members are elected by the club.

Officers are elected each semester: Ralph Lippard was president for the first semester and Charles Bolden served the last semester. Other officers were: vice-presidents Frank Irvin and Curtis Williamson; Joe Lyerly served as secretary and treasurer for both semesters; Richard Bradshaw and Ralph Lippard have been chairmen of the program committees. Mr Southern has been supervisor for the club.

With Mr. Kesler and Mr. Moore as coaches, the debating society has finished a fair season. Most of the time was spent on triangular debate the query of which was: Resolved, "That the United States should enter the World Court."

A brave argument was put up by the teams but they lost on both sides. A much better season is expected next year.

S'THLETE CLUB

The letter club is one of the best clubs in Boyden High. It is composed of about forty boys who have received their block "S" in some sport. The members of this club stand for high ideals in athletics; their work is to carry on athletics between the different classes and to promote varsity athletics to a higher degree.

It is indeed an honor to be a member of this club. Every boy should work hard and earn a letter so that he may become a member of this great club.

MASK AND WIG CLUB

The Senior Dramatic Club and those aspiring to membership met early in September for the purpose of reorganizing and planning the year's program. The group felt that it should have a distinctive name and finally "Mask and Wig" was chosen. With its splendid corps of officers the Club has accomplished more this year than ever before in its history. The first production of the year was a three-act comedy, "Only Me". For this play the scenery was designed and painted by the Club; the Manual Arts Department doing the carpentry work. Soon after the holidays work was begun on three one-act plays, one of which was chosen as the entry in the State Dramatic Tournament. "The Crowsnest" was selected. Those appearing in the play were: Francis Murdoch, Billy Cole, and Lawrence Russell. The setting, the crow's nest of an old hooker beating her way down the South American coast, was designed and made by the students. Though we did not reach our goal, the finals at Chapel Hill, we are proud that we were able to play in the final contest for the Western District honors. This is indicative of the good work done by the club. The final production of the year was the Senior play, "Kempy". We feel justified in the belief the curtain was closed on a year of real achievement in the dramatic work of Boyden High. The Mask and Wig Club bids fair to do greater work in the future.

CLASS ROLL

The outstanding pieces of work accomplished were: Christmas boxes sent to Arizona Indians; gifts presented to local poor; and week of prayer service.

The Girl Reserves have had a very successful year. They not only look on the serious side of life, but also have lots of fun going on hikes, picnics, and weenie roasts.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The Music Department has in this, its second year, made a great deal of progress. Besides the regular chorus, glee clubs, and orchestra there was organized a band and music club. The band was at first organized to play at football games, but this spring, with the addition of ten new members it has been put on equal footing with the orchestra with rehearsals during school hours. It has had several handicaps but nevertheless splendid work has been done.

The Music Club developed into one of the largest and most popular clubs in the school. Its chief work was the development of better appreciation of good music in the school.

The chorus and glee clubs, with the aid of the orchestra, presented a two-act operetta "Up in the Air". This was given with an all-chorus cast and chorus, no outsiders being used. The operetta was presented twice, with great success, in the high school auditorium, and once, by request of the P. T. A. in the Innis Street School. Four members of the chorus also attended the First Annual All-Southern Chorus. At the State Music Contest one first and one fourth place was won by soloists from the department.

The orchestra, with an enrollment of twenty-three, did some of the finest work ever done in the school. They assisted with the production "Up in the Air", and many other entertainments both in the school and in the community, winning well deserved praise. Some of the best members of the orchestra attended the State Music Contest in Greensboro, and were winners of a second and a fourth place.

The members of the various groups are:

Conrad; Efficiency, Mildred Belt. The advisor is Miss Johnson.

The organization meets once a month, during the regular assembly period in the auditorium. The programs presented, under the direction of Miss Johnson, have consisted mainly of educational and religious topics.

The aim of the league is to draw the girls closer together; to promote better understanding, better friendship, and better cooperation among them; and to centralize the various girls' clubs.
